

Firm Profile

ABOUT DIG

DIG is an award-winning, majority Black-owned architectural, interior, and graphic design firm with a rich history of urban campus redevelopment, preservation, adaptive reuse and new construction projects along the NYC-NJ-Philadelphia corridor.

We are visionaries, planners, technical architects, designers, and LEED accredited professionals who possess an acute awareness of the importance of safety and security of building occupants and equally committed to designing a built environment that reinforces accessibility, resiliency, efficiency, and sustainability. We address emergent needs and evolving priorities of varied scope, size, and complexity.

Underscoring our experience and capabilities is having achieved the highest level of pre-qualification with the NJ Division of Property Management & Construction and approval by over two dozen governing agencies and institutions under term contracts – indicative of the firm’s capacity, and breadth and depth of experience.

Clients return to us often for our small-firm attention and big-firm experience.

DIVERSITY, EQUITY & INCLUSION

Powered by diversity, our range of backgrounds and perspectives coalesce to form unique solutions that influence a more sustainable and equitable built environment. Inclusiveness is at the forefront of our collaborative design process and drives our innovative thinking.

MISSION

“Architecture for Change” is our philosophy and commitment to transformative designs that unite people, enhance wellbeing, and enrich communities. We are architects who influence culture, driving communities and the built environment toward equity and opportunity for the greater good.
