

Hello,

We are pleased to present The Detail Doctor as a premier filming location for productions of all sizes. Our facility offers a rare combination of convenience, scale, and versatility—positioning us as an ideal choice for automotive shoots, dramatic scenes, production support space, and more.

Located just down the street from Netflix's new New Jersey headquarters, our property sits in a rapidly developing production hub. This proximity makes our site exceptionally convenient for crews, talent, and support teams, while placing your project in an area already on the radar of major streaming and film companies.

Our 8,500 sq. ft. modern industrial facility provides a clean, adaptable environment that can easily transform for a wide variety of scenes. The shop includes:

- A spacious open workshop ideal for automotive films, mechanical sequences, stunt prep, or transformation scenes
- A dedicated wash bay, perfect for water elements, detail sequences, and behind-the-scenes prep
- A controlled clean room suited for close-up product shots, high-tech scenes, or specialty cinematography
- Front offices that can double as executive spaces, business scenes, police or FBI interiors, or production offices
- Approximately 30 parking spaces for cast, crew, or equipment vehicles

In addition, our property sits directly along a major highway—an advantageous feature for productions requiring:

- Racing shots
- Drive-by sequences
- Car chase segments
- Establishing shots involving roadway movement or industrial backdrops

Facilities like ours have been successfully utilized in popular productions featuring industrial workshops, undercover operations, technical labs, or gritty, tension-filled environments. Shows and films often rely on modern industrial spaces to create authenticity in scenes involving vehicle builds, crime investigations, character confrontations, and high-intensity plot points. Our layout and aesthetics align naturally with these demands.

With the surge of production choosing New Jersey for its film incentives, infrastructure growth, and increasing studio presence, many local businesses are now securing film opportunities. We are fully committed to joining that momentum—offering a film-friendly, flexible, and cooperative environment for scouts, location managers, and production teams.

We are easy to work with, open to creative needs, and able to accommodate both on-camera use and behind-the-scenes operations such as staging, holding, green rooms, or crew basecamp.

We welcome the opportunity to show the space and discuss how our facility can support your next project.

Sincerely,
The Detail Doctor Team
